Elections

Elections for off-campus men Senators are scheduled for Friday, Sept. 25. Petitions may be obtained now from the Dean of Men's office in the Library. All petitions must be returned to that office by 5 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 23.

Enrollment Hits Record U-Maine High

This year's enrollment has swelled to a new record high. A total of 5,455 have registered for classes on the Orono and Portland campuses. Last year the record was set with a combined campus registration of 5,292.

Broken down, this figure shows an enrollment on the Orono campus of 4,937; on the Portland campus of 518.

Students on the Orono campus include 281 graduate students; 20 fifth-year students; 1,027 seniors; 1,018 juniors; 1,067 sophomores; 1,240 freshmen; 112 special students; 40 three-year nursing students; 13 unclassified degree candidates; three audition students; 80 two-year agriculture students and 35 two-year students.

Although the actual number of out-of-state students has increased due to the large freshman class, the percentage (usually an approximate 20%) of out-of-staters has dropped.

Tonight Marks Last Performance Of Terrell's Play

The second and last performance of the first Coffee House production of the season will be staged tonight at 8:15 p.m.

The author of the play, Midnight on the Emperor's Walk, is Dr. Carroll Terrell of the English department. The cast includes two student members, Maruti Achanta and Anna Carparelli.

The play concerns the conformist propaganda of American culture and how it stunts the potential for human growth of an intelligent woman.

The main action is set off when an orthodox clairvoyant arrives in a suburban neighborhood and stirs up questions of the effect on personality of an unendurable belief; the ambiguities of psychic perception and visual hallucination; the character effects of repressed guilt; the momentary madness of hysteria, and the terror of the soul when one begins to fear God.

104 Students Disciplined

In answer to many questions about the University Committee on Discipline's actions during the 1963-1964 academic year, Registrar George Crosby has announced the following committee dealings.

Seventy-six students were placed on censure; seven were placed on probation to the Dean of Women's Office; six were placed on office censure with the Dean of Men; and five students were advised to with-

WMEB Adopts New Program Schedule

"Wherever you go, there's radio" is a familiar cliché. This year it will be adapted on the University of Maine campus to "Wherever you go, there's WMEB-FM."

The blue station banner bearing the letters and call numbers identifying the student-run campus radio station will be seen at nearly all events—from football games to poetry hours and lectures by visiting dignitaries.

This coverage is part of a new series of programs planned by Janiece Bacon, current station manager, and Rodney Douglass, production manager. Throughout the year there will be interviews with student faculty leaders and a series of radio drama produced in conjunction with the Maine Masque, as well as coverage of all special events.

WMEB-FM will go on the air at 6 p.m. Monday and will broadcast from 6 to 11 p.m., five days a week, on the following schedule:

6-7 p.m.—Easy Listening (mood music)
7-8 p.m.—Campus News & Events
National & Local News 7:45-8:00

8-11 p.m.—Classical Music
11 p.m.—Sign Off

Weekly program bulletins will be available to anyone who sends his name and address to WMEB-FM at 275 Stevens Hall, or who contacts the station manager.

MCA Opens Center For Study, Discussion

Stressing the Maine Christian Association not as a fellowship group but as the Protestant Church at the University of Maine, Rev. John W. Pickering described the use of its new A-frame center not as a meeting house but rather as a place where small informal groups may converge for discussion, study or relaxation.

Pickering also added that the center is not open exclusively to Protestant groups.

Construction of the building was initiated last October and was completed in June. Although it will be open on Sunday for a Freshman Forum at 5 p.m., the official open house will be held sometime in late October, Pickering said.

The building features a sunken carpeted lounge, complete with brick fireplace. The stained Douglas fir and cedar pitched roof and two A-line front and back glass walls lend an atmosphere of wintery warmth conducive to light discourse and leisure.

Pickering stressed that the MCA center will supplement, not duplicate University facilities; it is open to groups wishing to hold light suppers and is a place where students may get together informally off campus.

Clubs and meeting groups which normally use on-campus facilities will continue to do so.

The building also includes several

U-M Grad Selected Fraternity Assistant

By STAN EAMES

Dean of Men John Stewart said Tuesday that a 1960 graduate of the University has been appointed Assistant to the Dean of Men. Stewart said the 29-year-old Sigma Nu alumnus, Maurice Littlefield, will devote at least half of his time to fraternity affairs.

The appointment was made following a Board of Trustees ad hoc committee recommendation that the post be established.

The committee also condemned fraternity hazing as "unproductive and hazardous." It said, "While not a major problem, it is of some consequence in the overall fraternity problem."

In the report submitted and accepted at the Trustees' June meeting, the committee requested that University officials submit a no hazing rule to the Board for approval.

The report said part of Littlefield's job is to give, "not through limitation, high priority to the renovation problems so as to accomplish minimum standards in fraternity houses as soon as may reasonably be."

Littlefield, a Belfast native, was travelling representative for his fraternity for three years after graduation. In 1963 he resigned and entered the University of Virginia, where he received his MA.

The committee report noted that last year there was "marked improvement" by the fraternities with respect to the no drinking rule and recommended that Trustees reconfirm the rule as trustee policy. The ad hoc committee commended the University hierarchy for its strict enforcement of the rule.

The committee said the Nolde Report, issued in January, fails to substantiate the general statement that "the fraternity system is anti-intellectual and probably has always been so." "We are impressed," committeemen said, "by the action of the IFC last year."

The report showed that fraternities, housing over 550 men students, represent at least $4,000,000 in University investments in dormitory and dining facilities and looked forward to a potential capacity of 700 students and a $1,000,000 increase in facilities.

It saw no area where the University should now undertake any major financial obligation related to either new capital expenditures or

Sophs Hold Dance

The sophomore class will sponsor an open dance Saturday night in the Memorial Gym from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m.

Music will be provided by The Cumberlands, a campus combo.

All classes are invited to attend this affair, which will be free of charge. Dress for the night is casual.

This should be a good opportunity for frosh to meet upper-classmen, and for upper-class men to meet frosh women.

Chaperones are Prof. and Mrs. James Barushok and Prof. and Mrs. J. Duff Gillespie.

THEY'RE IN THE ARMY NOW—Cadets Roberta Fowler, Jill Hamilton and Mary Burke receive briefing from Major John Reinhardt on role of Army aviation. The U-M coeds spent summer participating in WAC College Junior Course at Fort McClellan, Ala.

Coeds Participate In WAC Training Program

Three U-M senior coeds participated in a four-week Women's Army Corps officer training program at the U. S. WAC Center Fort McClellan, Ala.

The three Maine coeds are Mary Burke, Roberta Fowler and Jill Hamilton. They were among 100 college women representing 71 universities and colleges in 33 states participating in this summer's College Junior Course.

The program, open to women who have completed their junior year in college, gives an insight to life in the Army without obligation for future military service. After volunteering for the orientation, the women are called to active duty for one month in the army reserve, receive the pay of a corporal and are called Cadets.

Upon graduation in June, the three cadets may choose to apply for direct commissions as second lieutenants in the WAC, but are under no obligation to do so.

Women who are commissioned, however, are called to active duty for two years. Their first assignment is to attend an 18-week WAC Officer Basic Course, conducted at Ft. McClellan.

Maine Masquers To Present Shaw's 'You Never Can Tell'

The Maine Masque Theatre will present You Never Can Tell, an 1896 George Bernard Shaw comedy, Oct. 21-24 in place of Of Cabbages and Kings.

Masque director Herschel Brickner said the originally scheduled production was cancelled because the play's author would not make revisions he deemed necessary.

The substitute comedy follows a fatherless family which, in its wanderings, meets the man of the house after an 18-year absence.

Readings for the nine available parts will be held Sunday and Monday in the Hauck Auditorium. Anyone interested in working backstage should contact Allan Cyrus, 340 Stevens, or attend tryouts.

Characters to be filled are Valentine, a 30-year-old dentist with an east manner; Dolly, a vivacious 18-year-old girl; Philip, Dolly's twin; Gloria, the twins' attractive sister, who cold-shouldered the world.

Also, Mrs. Clandon, the children's old-fashioned mother; her husband, Fergus, tall, hard and stringy; Balmy Walters, a white-haired headwaiter; Finch McComas, a respectable gentleman acting as a go-between; and Bohun, a cunning character who specializes in being right when others are wrong.

Miller Will Head Johnson-Humphrey Group On Campus

Frank Miller, a senior history and government major, has been appointed campus chairman of the young citizens for Johnson-Humphrey at the University, it was announced this week by Joel W. Eastman, Maine State Chairman of the Young Citizens for Johnson-Humphrey.

Miller, like other YCJ-H organizers on college campuses across the state, will set up an organization to act as a forum for Democrats, Independents, and Republicans who wish for the re-election of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The University of Maine Young Citizens will be affiliated with the U.M. Young Democrats Club and co-operate with them on various projects such as distributing campaign materials, voter registration, and election day work.

All students who are interested in joining the group should contact Miller, giving their names and campus addresses, and plan to attend the first formal meeting which will be held Wednesday, September 30th in the Memorial Union.

Ag Engineering Dept. Head Accepts Ohio State Position

Prof. Byron L. Bondurant, former chairman of the agricultural engineering department, has accepted a professorship in Ohio State University's agricultural engineering department.

Prof. Bondurant, an Ohio native, received a bachelor of agricultural engineering degree from Ohio State and an M.S. in civil and hydraulic engineering from the University of Connecticut. He has taught at Connecticut, Cornell, University of Delaware, and at Maine.

He served in Sierra Leone as consultant to the Peace Corps and in Nigeria as consultant to Harvard University. Bondurant's field of special interest is soil and water conservation and management.

Maine's Hyland Reviews Cells At Syracuse U.

Prof. Fay Hyland of the botany department will attend a six-day conference at Syracuse University Sept. 20-26.

Sponsored by the University of New York College of Forestry, the conference is called the "Cellular Ultrastructure of Woody Plants."

Scientists from around the world, leading authors, and teachers will be brought up to date on recent findings in this little-known field of cell wall structure research. Such research is important to such industries as pulp and paper, plastics, and wood products.

The advanced science seminar will explore the cell walls of woody plants from the fields of chemistry, wood anatomy, botany, pathology, and electron microscopy. The results will be published by Syracuse University Press.

Dr. Wilfred A. Cote, Jr., will direct the meeting in the Pinebrook Conference Center. The conference has been made possible by a National Science Foundation Grant.

ROTC Department Appoints Acting Cadet Commanders

The ROTC department has announced the acting cadet commanders for this semester.

They are Brigade Commander Stephen Melgard, Brigade Executive Officer Charles Bourne, First Battalion Commander Allan Zimmerman, Second Battalion Commander Owen Wells, and Advanced Leadership Unit Commander Hugh Hastings.

Other appointments have been made for other senior cadets. All appointments are tentative only until the start of the second semester when permanent appointments are made.

Military Dept. Lists Outstanding Cadets

The ROTC department has announced the selection of Distinguished Military Students for the 1964-65 school year.

Selections are made on the basis of scholarship, drill leadership, and performance at summer camp. The distinguished cadets are approved by President Elliott upon recommendation of the professor of military science.

The following students are designated Distinguished Military Stu-

Debaters Set Date For First Meeting Of Fall

There will be a meeting of all students interested in forensics on Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Coe Lounge of the Memorial Union.

Students in all classes and colleges are invited to attend. Information will be given on debating, discussion, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, oral interpretation, and also on Pi Kappa Delta and the Maine Debating Council.

Refreshments will be served. Anyone unable to attend should contact Dr. Wofford Gardner, 310 Stevens.

The committee, guided by Robert Haskell, Bangor, saw no need for a trustee-approved standing fraternity committee, adding that the council of fraternity advisers and a stronger IFC, working cooperatively, represent sufficient executive direction.

The ad hoc committee said the problem "... resolves itself into the simple conclusion that there are few segments of the problem that will not be satisfactorily solved by adequate staff, supported by clearly-understood direction from the executive office of the University."

Voluntary ?

We are now in the midst of a national election which will tell us whether we shall continue to progress with twentieth century thought or close our eyes to it and revert to an untenable position of outlawing it altogether. On no point are the two combatants more clearly at odds than that of social security and its modification.

Since 1935 when the first social security act was passed, it has undergone nine extensions and revisions. Now Sen. Goldwater wants to make the whole system voluntary. Since the convention he has modified his stand somewhat but basically it is still the same. At this point we should look at this stand realistically and realize what it would mean to the working men and women of the United States.

If the system were made voluntary, those workers who choose not to enroll in social security would gain preference over those who choose to join because, as you know, the employer has to match the employee's share. It is a simple matter of economics. Soon employers would be hiring only those employees who were not covered by the system. With no money coming in the social security system would only be paying off its previous commitments; thus it soon would be bankrupt. Social security can only work so long as it is mandatory.

President Johnson and his party are sponsoring an extension to the social security law which recognizes the responsibility to the aged who have devoted their lives to their country. We cannot, as a civilized nation, turn our backs on this ever-increasing portion of our population. After many people are forced to retire at the age of 65, an illness can be a catastrophe from which they might never recover.

Medicare and social security could not promise to take the worry out of old age, but could guarantee to keep more people off the rolls of public dole and allow them to maintain some of the dignity that goes well with white hair.

The Grease Pit

Your Choice

by Joel Eastman

The 1960 Presidential election seemed to offer most people very little real choice. The candidates seemed to differ very little, standing almost side-by-side in the American political spectrum which isn't very wide to begin with. The vote reflected this lack of difference, and John F. Kennedy won almost a "toss-up" victory.

This year is different. Never before in our lifetimes has the public been offered a clearer choice between two Presidential candidates. The election of 1964 stands in sharp contrast to that of 1960, with President Johnson clearly representing the liberal and Senator Goldwater the conservative political philosophies. The American conservatives who have complained long and loud of the lack of a candidate who truly reflects their views now have a champion, and the liberals who have often been represented in many ways by both parties also have a definite choice.

If there ever was an opportunity for everyone to work for what he believes in, this is the time. Every student should review his thoughts and feelings, make his choice, and then do his part for the side he chooses. The University of Maine offers a Young Republicans Club and a Young Democrats Club with an affiliated group of Young Citizens for Johnson-Humphrey. They will welcome your membership and will provide you with an opportunity to aid in the campaign as little or as much as you wish.

The election is only weeks away. There will not be another for four long years—perhaps, there will never be another election which will have as much influence on the direction of American life as this one will. I hope that you will be able to say that you made your choice, worked for what you believed to be right, and therefore had a part in the decision-making process.

WMEB-FM

Having never previously held a position of any sort on the WMEB-FM staff, I had the opportunity of being a member of the listening audience last year. This I feel was highly beneficial to me since I was able to listen, absorb, and criticize from "the outside looking in."

I will not ignore what I know is the obvious: In the past WMEB-FM has left something to be desired. Many listeners, including myself, have condemned many things concerning the station. I could spend all day listing and quoting statements made to me personally by both students and faculty condemning WMEB-FM (many unfit for printing); however, rather than deal with the past I would like to deal with the future of WMEB-FM—that criticism concerning what should be done to improve the campus station.

What will we do to improve WMEB-FM? First of all, we will set high standards. Second, we will maintain these high standards throughout the year. Third, we will give you a better and improved WMEB-FM.

In the final analysis, however, we must have a staff which is able to give its audience what it wants to hear. Herein lies our success or failure—the ability of the staff and the satisfaction of the audience. I have the highest regard for the staff with which I will be working, especially the station manager, Janiece Bacon. She is very competent in the field of broadcasting and has a great deal of drive. Of course, the staff as it now stands cannot do the job alone. A production staff, a news staff, a sports staff, an announcing staff must be established and this can only be done by having those students who have the interest and ability joining our ranks. And I do make a plea to those people to make themselves known to us simply by walking into the studios (275 Stevens Hall) and talking with either Janiece or myself.

In concluding I should of course make some comment concerning the most important people to any radio station, its listeners. To these I make a plea also: To become an official WMEB-FM listener you must do one thing: LISTEN TO 91.9 ON YOUR FM DIAL. If you do not have an FM radio, get one somehow—beg, borrow, or steal. I personally believe the FM radio is worthwhile to anyone who wants something more from the radio medium than they normally get. We hope to bring you the type of music that you do not normally get —classical, folk, jazz, etc. (when you want "the other" I invite you to leave WMEB-FM; in fact, the entire FM band). We hope to bring you complete news, sports, and weather coverage. A new alliance between WMEB-FM and the Maine Masque Theatre will bring you a high quality of radio drama. We hope to present regular interviews, we will bring you complete election coverage. We will bring you all local sports events. We will bring you lectures, discussions, talks. We have direct lines to the Memorial Field, the Memorial Gym, and the Hauck Auditorium. All of this is specifically for you the distinguishing radio listener—the WMEB-FM radio listener.

WMEB-FM will begin broadcasting on Monday, September 21 at 6:00 p.m. It will broadcast until 11:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Rodney B. Douglass Production Supervisor WMEB-FM 91.9 MC

Work Hard?

Next spring we will all have an opportunity to sit down and look back upon what we have accomplished over the past school year. I hope that at this time we will be able to think with pride about the obstacles which we have conquered and the monuments which we have built. However, obstacles aren't conquered and monuments aren't constructed without a lot of hard work. Do you care what happens at YOUR UNIVERSITY?

I'm not going to preach, but, I am going to tell you that if you do care, that isn't enough. You have to do something about it.

During this first week of school I am inviting everyone who cares to demonstrate his interest by participating in our student government. Your General Student Senate is your voice, but nobody will hear it if you don't make it loud enough. The opportunities are many. Run for Senator in your living area, participate in Senate committees, follow what is happening in your student government.

The first Senate meeting will be held on Sept. 29 at 7 p.m. in the Memorial Union and I hope that by this time all areas—dormitories, fraternities, off-campus, University Park and University Cabins—will have selected their Senators.

I extend an open invitation to any student to visit me in my office on the top floor of the Union. My office hours will be posted on the door.

I also invite all interested students to attend as many Senate meetings as possible during the year. Every meeting is open and we want your participation.

Let's all work together for a progressive and constructive year. Let's give future University of Maine students a reason to remember the school year of the Centennial celebration, 1964-1965.

Time to show off those dances you polished up this summer will be available Friday and Saturday nights in the Memorial Gym. Friday the Satans will play from 8 to 12 for a stag dance. Everyone is welcome and the profits from the event will be donated to the favorite philanthropic project of the sponsoring sorority.

Saturday evening the sophomore class is holding an open dance with sound by The Cumberland, a well-known campus group. The time is 8 to 12 and the place, the gym.

Movies in the Hauck Auditorium this weekend are Paris When It Sizzles, Friday at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Saturday the featured flick is A New Kind of Love, being shown at the same times. On screen Sunday at 3, 5 and 7 p.m. will be Walt Disney's Summer Magic.

It seems as though the summer vacation was rather profitable for the jewelry business. The length of the following list might even justify the title of this column.

PINNED: Linda Tokarz and Ray Six, Kappa Delta Rho, Penn State; Jane Tompkins, Alpha Chi Omega, and Bob Miller, TEP; Nona Libby, Chi Omega, and Charlie Newell, Phi Mu Delta.

AAUW Announces Three '65-66 Fellowships In Natural Sciences

The American Association of University Women Educational Foundation offers fellowships in the natural sciences for 1965-66.

The Marie Curie Fellowship in radiology, physics, or chemistry is open to women of France or the U.S.A. A doctorate in the field of research is required. The stipend is $5000.

The Sarah Berliner Fellowship in physics, chemistry, or biology has a stipend of $5000. Women of any country may apply. A doctorate in the field of research is required.

The Ida H. Hyde Fellowship in eugenics or eugenics also offers a stipend of $5000 to women of any country who hold a doctorate in their field of research.

The deadline for applications is December 1, 1964. Women of the U.S.A. apply to the AAUW Fellowships Office, 2401 Virginia Avenue, N.W., Washington D.C., 20037. Women of other countries should obtain application forms from the IFUW association or the Cultural Affairs Officer of the U.S. Embassy of their own country.

Fulbright Competition Deadline Falls Nov. 1 For 1965-66 Applications

Students are reminded that the deadline for applications in the 1965-66 Fulbright and Foreign Government Fellowship competition is Nov. 1.

American Water Works Assn. Offers Annual Grad Prizes

The American Water Works Association is offering annual prizes of $500 and $250 to graduate students for the best and second best master's or doctoral thesis or dissertation in the area of study related to public water supply.

Applicants should submit their publication manuscript based on the thesis or dissertation to the Senior Member Prize Committee, American Water Works Association, 2 Park Ave., N.Y., 10016, during the calendar year in which the thesis itself is submitted.

Included with the manuscript must be the name of the author, school and department, degree sought, major professor and a statement of the relationship of the work to the public water supply field.

The first competition will be for the calendar year of 1965 and announcement of winners will be made on or before March 15 of the following year.

TB Test Cards To Be Filled In, Mailed Today

Tuberculin test cards given each student at the time of the test must be filled out and mailed today.

Check the spot where the test was given and, if you see nothing or cannot find the spot, check the lowest box of the card. If you can find the spots, but they are not raised, also check the lowest box.

If any spots are raised, check the upper left box. There may be some confusion if some of the spots are raised and some are not. In this case, circle the dot or dots in the diagram which approximately correspond to the raised dot or dots on your arms.

There should be no confusion on the other possible reactions if there is any question, go to the University Health Center Friday before 4:30, or Saturday between 8:30 and 11:30 a.m.

Do not forget to fill in your name and campus address.

Inter-Varsity

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will sponsor a senior panel at 7 p.m. Tuesday, discussing college adjustments, in the Totman Room of the Memorial Union.

Three Army Officers Join ROTC Department Staff

Three U.S. Army officers have assumed new duties with the department of military science.

The new staff members are Col. John S. Gerety, who will serve as head of the department and hold the rank of full professor; Lt. Col. Lawrence Johnson, Jr., associate professor; and Capt. Clifton H. Deringer, Jr., assistant professor.

Col. Gerety joins the Maine staff direct from duty in Germany where he served two years as chief of staff of the Fourth Armored Division and for one year as commander of the Seventh Army Training Center.

A native of Marshfield, Mass., Col. Gerety was graduated from Norwich University where he was prominent in athletics and served as editor of the Norwich Guidon. He also has taught at Norwich. During World War II he commanded the Second Battalion, 111th Infantry Regiment, in the South Pacific.

Since World War II his duties have included service in Turkey as advisor to the First and Third Turkish armies commander of the School Regiment and later assistant chief of staff, G3 at Fort Knox, Ky.; and operations officer of CONARC Board at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Lt. Col. Johnson, who was born in Cintra, Portugal, holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Omaha. He also has studied at the University of Pennsylvania and San Antonio College. He has had teaching experience at all levels with the Army and also has been employed in the banking and import and export field.

Lt. Col. Johnson will serve as commandant of the University of Maine's Cadet Brigade.

Capt. Deringer, a native of Punxsutawney, Pa., also was graduated from the University of Omaha with additional study at the University of Maryland and Florida State University.

U-M Granted Funds For Water Supply Program

The University has received funds totaling $106,095 to support continuation of a graduate training program in water supply and pollution control training over the next three college years.

The funds were granted to the U-M department of civil engineering by the Division of Water Supply and Pollution Control of the U.S. Public Health Service.

The sum includes $33,503 as a supplement to a grant of $54,578 received two years ago and a new grant of $72,592.

WAA Slates Annual Picnic For Monday

The annual Women's Athletic Association Get Acquainted Picnic is slated for Monday, September 21, at 5 p.m. at the Women's Athletic Field.

The picnic is designed to introduce the WAA Council, to have freshmen and upperclassmen meet informally and to point out the various activities sponsored by the WAA.

Following the picnic supper will be an introduction of the club presidents and managers, explanation of the activities offered by WAA and demonstrations by the Archery and Gymnastics clubs.

Committee members are Pam Hennessey, general chairman and acting president of WAA; Pat Olcott, program chairman; Karen Olson, invitations, hostess chairman and WAA secretary; Lee Charest and Claire Colwell, games chairmen; Jane Thompson and Tenney Gavaza, name tags; Sally Wadleigh, equipment chairman; Susan Bryan, publicity, and Mary Thomas, food chairmen. The Eagles will serve for the picnic.

Gridders Face Redmen In Opener At Amherst

BY JIM BUTLER and PETE MARKS

The University of Maine Black Bears open their '64-'65 season this Saturday when they travel to Amherst to face defending Yankee Conference champ, U-Mass. Coach Hal Westerman's warriors finished second to the Redmen last year, and this season's crop of outstanding backs may give the Bears a real shot at the title.

Mass., however, has to be the strong favorite to dump the Bears and to retain the crown. Quarterback Jerry Whelchel, the All-New England choice who led the Redmen to their 8-0-1 season last year, is back, as is big (6' 4", 235 lb.) end Milt Morin. But keeping in mind that Maine was the only YanCon team to score on Mass. last season, and if the Bears can upset on Saturday, they have a chance of going all the way.

Last Friday the Bears scrimmaged Maine Maritime, helping to illustrate the point that Maine's interior line needs strengthening. The Mid-dies were overrun by the speed and power of Maine's surplus of fine backs, but unless replacements can be developed for such departed line-men as Boucher, Severson, Soule, Harriman and Reidman, the Bears may be in for a "long" season.

Tackles Charlie Harlow and Ernie Smith will have a "Bear's" job ahead of them, as will guards Floyd Harn, Rod Durgin and Wally Hirst, center Reggie Clark and end Al Riley. The line has little depth and much will depend on the development of sophomores Ivan Brawn, John Sherry and John Fogler. Sherry looks good enough at this stage to start.

Dick DeVarney has the good fortune to be blessed with such fine receivers as Dave Harnum, Ned Sherry, Bill Reviere, Dick Flaherty, and sophomore standout Denny Doyle. In the Maine Maritime game DeVarney, a 5' 8" junior, completed six for six.

Maine's backfield boasts speed and power. Co-captain Mike Haley, Ron Langa, Bob Hurd and Bill Perkins will be the power runners, supplemented by such speedsters as Brent Keene and flashy sophomore Paul Keany. Other backs who should see plenty of action are sophs Walt Nelson, Norm Tardiff, Charlie Belisle and John Huard, and junior Bob Koesmiersky.

Frank Harney has returned to school in fine shape. His weight is down and, if his injury-plagued legs can hold up, he has possibilities of greatness. He scored two T.D.'s in the scrimmage and broke away frequently for long gains. Back also is Ray Austin, a fine quarterback who

Maine Nine Termed 'Miraculous'

By KEVAN PICKENS

The 1964 college baseball season is history. However, the efforts and events of the University of Maine's team last June in the College World Series at Omaha will long be remembered. Seldom does a team from New England fare well in the tournament, and nobody expected an unknown team from an obscure corner of the country to catch the hearts of 60,000 Omaha fans.

In the opening game at Rosenblatt Stadium the Bears, an inexperienced ball club which had never played under the lights but which possessed a tremendous desire and an outstanding pitcher, ended Seton Hall's 13-game winning streak. Joe Ferris upset the New Jerseyites 5-1.

Several days later Maine suffered its first setback in the double elimination tournament to Minnesota. Big Ten Champions and eventual series winner.

The "Miraculous Bears" then faced the nation's Number Two team, Arizona State. Again Joe Ferris, the tournament's M.V.P. award winner, was called, this time as a reliever for Dick Dolloff who had gone seven innings, and the unbeaten flash ousted Arizona from the World Series, 4-2.

In the fourth game Joe Ferris and the giant killers from Maine met and defeated the defending champions from the University of Southern California. Ferris' 2-1 victory was the biggest upset in C.W.S. history. But the Bears were to lose a squirm in the final round of the tournament to Missouri, 2-1.

The Maine baseball team was the first U-M nine to play in the district One NCAA tournament and was the first State of Maine team to play in the College World Series. It was the first Y.C. team ever to win two or more games in the C.W.S., and by defeating Seton Hall in the opening round, the 1964 Maine team became "Champions of the East."

The University of Maine is extremely proud of its team and of coach Jack Butterfield, who was named New England coach of the year.

REMEMBER

A College Education isn't complete without a course at Pat's. If you're over 21 you'll want to visit the downstairs taproom and start working for your Diploma and Degree of Malted Arts.

Gridders Face

will do the punting and play defensive halfback. He, too, was very impressive on offense in the scrimmage.

If the experts' forecasts can be trusted, bet on Mass to repeat its conference win, with Maine second and Vermont looming as the dark horse in the field. But the old axiom that anything can happen in Y-C action still holds true, and if a huge team effort can materialize, including some stellar performances by the highly-touted backfield, it will make for a very tight conference fight.

FROSH SOCCER

Any frosh interested in signing up for the freshman soccer squad should report to Coach Dunklee in the Memorial Gym. Daily practice starts Sept. 21.

MANAGERS

Managers are needed for the varsity soccer team. Those interested should contact Coach Dunklee.
